ROTUNDA Frank Lloyd Wright's modernist design of the museum building is one of the greatest works in the collection. The landmark building provides several unequalled and dramatic spaces for corporate events including the spacious rotunda floor and the famous quarter-mile spiral ramp winding up to the seventh floor, directly beneath the magnificently restored skylight.

Capacity: 1,000 for reception / 300 for dinner

Occasionally, installations may limit the availability and capacity of certain museum spaces.

PETER B. LEWIS THEATER The museum's auditorium is ideally suited for lectures, films, new product launches, press events, meetings, and seminars. The auditorium features state-of-the-art electronics including film, video, and internet capabilities.

Capacity: 281

NEWS CORPORATION NEW MEDIA THEATER Designed by Gwathmey Siegel & Associates and housed in the museum's Sackler Center for Arts Education, this intimate theater is equipped for video conferencing as well as slide, video, film, and digital-media projection. It is an ideal location for private screenings, media announcements, and presentations.

Capacity: 70

CAFE 3 Overlooking Fifth Avenue and Central Park, Cafe 3 allows guests to enjoy the architectural beauty of the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed and recently restored Monitor building and spectacular views out of the curving bank of windows. Cafe 3 is an elegant setting for small receptions or intimate dinners and can be used with adjoining galleries for additional fees.

Capacity: 40 for reception / 20 for dinner

THE WRIGHT The Wright is an exciting new venue for corporate and social events featuring a modern American menu that emphasizes seasonal, local, and sustainable ingredients. The elegant and modern architectural design of the restaurant is enhanced by an impressive site-specific commission by renowned British artist Liam Gillick. The Wright is available for evening events Sunday through Wednesday and all day on Thursdays when the museum is closed to the public.

Capacity: 75 for reception / 60 for dinner
